SECTION G: COMPREHENSION

Read the passage below.

Laurie was fond of elephants. She had always been fascinated with them although she had only seen them in pictures and on television. Laurie lived in small rural village and she was never given a chance to see real elephants.

Fortunately, when Laurie was 23 years old, she received a chance to join a crew of wildlife explorers. On one of their journeys, they passed through a village in a forest that was famous for their elephants. She could not believe that her wish would finally come true.

Laurie and her team of explorers spent many hours with the elephants. The elephant masters, the Mahouts, taught them many skills. They learnt to use simple sounds and commands to make the elephants move and do things. Once they were confident, the Mahouts allowed them to ride the elephants. At the end of the day, they bathed and fed the elephants before going to bed.

Laurie was impressed with the elephants' strength. The elephants were able to carry heavy logs, so she was shocked to see these elephants tied to a fence with only a thin rope.

"Won't they break the rope easily and escape?" Laurie asked one of the Mahouts.

"No," replied the Mahout.

He then explained that when the elephants were young, the trainers used strong ropes to tie them so they were unable to break the ropes. The baby elephants grew up believing that the thin ropes were too strong for them to break and did not try to break them.

Choose the correct option for the question below:

Laurie had never seen a real life elephant because she _____.

- A) lived in a rural village
- B) had pictures of elephants
- C) had seen one on television

Read the passage below.

Laurie was fond of elephants. She had always been fascinated with them although she had only seen them in pictures and on television. Laurie lived in small rural village and she was never given a chance to see real elephants.

Fortunately, when Laurie was 23 years old, she received a chance to join a crew of wildlife explorers. On one of their journeys, they passed through a village in a forest that was famous for their elephants. She could not believe that her wish would finally come true.

Laurie and her team of explorers spent many hours with the elephants. The elephant masters, the Mahouts, taught them many skills. They learnt to use simple sounds and commands to make the elephants move and do things. Once they were confident, the Mahouts allowed them to ride the elephants. At the end of the day, they bathed and fed the elephants before going to bed.

Laurie was impressed with the elephants' strength. The elephants were able to carry heavy logs, so she was shocked to see these elephants tied to a fence with only a thin rope.

"Won't they break the rope easily and escape?" Laurie asked one of the Mahouts.

"No," replied the Mahout.

He then explained that when the elephants were young, the trainers used strong ropes to tie them so they were unable to break the ropes. The baby elephants grew up believing that the thin ropes were too strong for them to break and did not try to break them.

SECTION H: COMPREHENSIONRead the passage below

One evening, Mr and Mrs Chong were driving home along a dark, narrow road. Their headlights shone on something that made them gasp in fear. A bear! It was enormous and looked hideous. The creature looked at them for a moment before heading into the darkness.

"We'd better report this to the police", exclaimed Mr Chong excitedly. "The bear must have escaped from the zoo!"

They drove quickly to the nearest police station and the inspector on duty rang the zoo. After a while, he said to them, "Strange, they've checked. The bears are in their enclosure. None has escaped."

"Both of us saw the bear", added Mr Chong. "Surely we can't be mistaken!" The police inspector said he would send some men to where the bear had been seen. Mr and Mrs Chong agreed to show them the exact spot.

When they arrived, they searched the area and suddenly, Mrs Chong screamed, "There it is! Over there!" In the beam of a searchlight, they saw the figure of the bear in the distance. The mystery was solved as they came closer to it, the "bear" took off its head and it was actually a young man in a bear costume. Mrs Chong heaved a sigh of relief. "I'm acting in a play in the theatre over there", he grinned. "Surely, you can guess my role. It's fun seeing the fear on your faces!"

"Well, you should stop", the police inspector scolded him angrily at once. "You might be mistaken for a real bear and get shot!"
