Section G: Comprehension 1 (8marks)

Read the passage below and answer questions 33 to 40

Ann sat quietly on her hospital bed. She was upset as her loyal and obedient dog, Rex, had disappeared.

Just then, Ann's sister, Sally, arrived at the hospital with freshly made pancakes for Ann to cheer her up. Ann was caught off guard when she saw Sally walking towards her. She did not expect Sally to visit her at breakfast time. Luckily, Ann had managed to clean her tear-stained cheeks with a piece of wet tissue before Sally reached her bedside. Ann wolfed down all the pancakes in silence as Sally would not allow her to talk while eating. After Ann had finished all the food, Sally began to tell Ann about Rex's strange behaviour before it went missing. 5

"Poor Rex. He starved and kept to himself after you were hospitalised. Tomorrow, I shall put up posters about Rex so that people can look out for our dog," Sally said. She promised to do everything she could to find Rex. Just then, Sally's handphone rang. She picked up her ringing handphone to take the call. 10

As Ann listened to Sally's conversation with the caller, she soon realised that the caller was talking about Rex. 15

"Sally, has someone found Rex?" Ann asked hopefully when the call had ended.

"Yes! Rex ran into this hospital a while ago and was caught by the security guard. He called me as Rex's dog collar shows my phone number," Sally said with a beaming smile. Upon hearing the news, Ann was over the moon. 20

Section H: Comprehension 2 (8marks)

Read the passage below and answer questions 41 to 45.

After school, James raced past his sister, Judy, and headed eagerly for Candy House. He was going to use his remaining pocket money to buy his favourite chocolate. Soon, Judy caught up with James. Both were about to step into the candy shop when they heard a lovely tune from a guitar.

"Hey! It's the elderly guitarist again. Let's watch his street performance!" 5 suggested Judy. Judy and James walked up to the guitarist and applauded loudly. At that moment, a passer-by dropped something into the guitarist's empty money box and hurried off. Judy peered into it and felt sorry for the guitarist. All she could see was a "lonely" coin. It was not even enough for buying a loaf of bread.

"James, would you like to give your remaining pocket money to the guitarist?" 10
Judy asked her younger brother.

"I only have two dollars," James mumbled.

"You could give it to him," Judy whispered back.

With drooping shoulders and a soft sigh, James put the two-dollar note into the money box. He would have to buy the chocolate the next time. After that, Judy 15 and James decided that it was time for them to go home.

"Thanks, children! I would like to give you something for being kind to an old man like me!" the guitarist called out to James and Judy when they were about to leave. The children were pleasantly surprised when the guitarist gave each of them a pretty seashell. James finally realised that helping others in need was more 20 satisfying than having his favourite chocolate.
