Comprehension 1 (8marks).

Max and his father were about to have their dinner when they heard shouting outside. Curious, they stepped out of their home to take a look.

"Dad, that house is on fire!" Max cried.

He immediately sprinted towards their neighbour's house with his father. They 5 were shocked to see their neighbour, Mr Alex, coughing as he stumbled down the stairs, his face black with soot. He pointed frantically to the burning house, "My son, Cody!"

Without hesitation, Max's father started up the stairs. The thick black smoke and intense heat forced him to go down on all fours. Soon, he reached Cody's room.
 10 Max's father banged on the door and tried to turn the doorknob but he could not. He ran back downstairs.

Meanwhile, Max was waiting anxiously at the front lawn. Suddenly, an ear-piercing scream cut through the air. Then, Max spotted a panic-stricken figure standing by a window and waving his hands desperately for help. It was Cody! The courageous 15 teenager grabbed a ladder and climbed up towards Cody. He knew that there was no time to waste. When he reached Cody, he gently coaxed Cody out of his room. Seeing that Cody was safe, Mr Alex heaved a sigh of relief.

The day after the fire, Mr Alex visited Max. "Thank you, Max. You are my son's hero forever. Without you, Cody may not have survived."

Comprehension 2 (4 x 2 marks)

"Kitty! Look at what you've done!" yelled Sam as the wooden castle he had just finished building fell. The playful cat had scampered into his bedroom and rubbed against it. The blocks that made up the castle fell to the floor with a crash.

Fuming with rage, Sam hurled a piece of block at the cat. Fortunately, it missed her. Sam was reaching for another block when his sister, Betty, sprang towards the cat and picked her up.

"Don't hurt Kitty! She didn't mean it!" his sister shouted.

Sam stared at the pieces of blocks on the floor. Tears welled up in his eyes and he started sobbing. Their father, who heard the commotion, dashed out of his room.

After finding out what had happened, Sam's father held his hand and led him to the pile of blocks. Curious, Betty followed after them. With his father's help, Sam began to lay the foundation for a new castle. Soon, Sam's tears were gone and he went on building as eagerly as ever. A short while later, he looked at the completed castle proudly.

"This is better than crying, isn't it?" his father asked, smiling at Sam.

Just then, Sam heard a meowing sound. A sense of guilt suddenly washed over Sam when he thought of his aggressive outburst towards Kitty earlier on. He picked her up gingerly and whispered, "I am sorry, Kitty. I will not hurt you again!" Betty smiled and patted her brother's shoulder approvingly.
