Comprehension (10 marks)

Read the following passage carefully and answer questions 22 to 29.

A lion was lying under a huge shady tree, trying to escape from the sun. He had just dozed off when a timid little mouse came upon him unexpectedly. In her fright, she scurried to get away. However, her tail brushed across the lion's nose and that woke the lion from his nap. Quick as lightning, the lion laid his huge paws angrily on the tiny creature wanting to kill her.

"Please don't kill me!" begged the poor mouse. "Please let me go and some day, I will repay your kindness."

The lion smirked as he thought about what the mouse had said and started laughing at her. He was amused to think that a tiny mouse could ever help him, the king of the jungle! Feeling generous, he finally freed the mouse. She was grateful that the lion had spared her life. She did not take what the lion said to heart and was determined to keep her words.

A few days later, while stalking his prey, the lion was caught in a hunter's net. He roared angrily as he turned and twisted in the net, trying to free himself. The mouse, who was nearby, heard the lion's roar and quickly found the lion struggling in the net. She scampered towards him and then started gnawing at the ropes until the lion was able to escape.

"You laughed when I said that I would repay you some day," said the mouse. Realising his mistake, the lion hung his head low and apologized to the mouse.

- B) he was feeling hot
