Section G: Comprehension 1 (8m)

"What's for lunch?" John wondered. He took a big gulp of water from his bottle in an attempt to silence his growling stomach. The sun was scorching and John had had a long day at school. He could not wait to reach home. However, the moment he stepped into the house, he was dismayed. There was no one at home. 5

"Should I call Ma to ask where she is? Forget it! I bet she has gone out to meet her friends again," he thought, letting out a loud sigh.

Famished, John decided to order some food from Koala Delivery. He picked up the phone, dialled their number and waited for someone to answer the call. 10

"Koala Delivery. What's your order?" the staff asked.

John immediately gave his order and the delivery address. Upon hanging up the phone, he began pacing up and down the living room while waiting for the food to be delivered. After a long thirty-minute wait, his food finally arrived. John's eyes lit up and his mouth watered. Without wasting a minute, John devoured the food. No crumbs were left uneaten. 15

An hour later, John was writhing on the floor due to a severe pain in his stomach. Instinctively, John called his mother. He told her that he was having a stomachache and needed help desperately. John's mother rushed home and took him to the nearby clinic. John regretted his actions and reminded himself to eat slowly and not gobble his food. 20

Why did John take a big gulp of water?

- ✓ A) He was very hungry
- B) The sun was scorching
- C) He had finally reached home
- D) It had been a long day at school

Section H: Comprehension 2 (8m)

The dimming of the lights and drawing of the curtains signalled the start of the first performance of the day. It was time for Sarah to go up on stage. The day she had been thinking about for the past few months was finally here. It was Talent Day 2018!

Talent Day was a grand annual affair in Sarah's school. It had always been a thrilling experience for the pupils to watch their peers go on stage to showcase their talent in dancing, singing or acting. As it was her last year in school, Sarah decided to take part in Talent Day 2018. She wanted to do something worth remembering.

When Sarah's name was called, she crossed her fingers and uttered a quick prayer backstage before making her entrance. Sarah had butterflies in her stomach as she walked to the centre of the stage. She took a deep breath to calm herself down and told herself that she was going to do her best for the performance.

In the sea of smiling faces, Sarah spotted her mother who gave her a thumbs-up. She did that to show her support for her. Sarah nodded slightly in acknowledgement. With bated breath, she cleared her throat and began singing. Her nervousness gradually disappeared as she belted out note after note.

When Sarah's performance ended, she knew she had nailed it. Upon hearing a loud applause from the audience, she took a bow and made her exit. It was her proudest moment. She had done what she never imagined to be possible.

Why did the pupils in Sarah's school look forward to Talent Day?
