Section F: Comprehension

Aunty Poh embraces the different cultures in Singapore with pride. She is one who will not shy away from chatting with friends from other races. Many of her neighbours are from different races.

Aunty Poh learnt Malay when she was young so that she could play with her Malay friends. At times, she even teaches her Malay friends simple Chinese words. Aunty Poh thinks it is important to learn about the cultures of other races to know her friends better.

Aunty Poh believes in giving back to the society. The 64-year-old is not only working as a part-time clerk, she is also an active volunteer in an elderly centre. On Mondays, she shares the news in different languages, English, Mandarin and Malay, at the elderly centre. She collects newspapers with colourful pictures and interesting news to show them.

Occasionally, the volunteers make random family visits. They keep the elderly company by having friendly chats with them. Sometimes, the volunteers help the elderly to get breakfast and groceries from the nearby market too.

Why does Aunty Poh still work so hard at 64 years old?

"Helping others creates purpose in my life and it gives me a sense of satisfaction," shared Aunty Poh.

Section G: Comprehension

It seems hard to avoid fast food restaurants in modern times. Fast food restaurants prepare all the ingredients in advance so that the meals are done in minutes.

Here are some tips to keep in mind to help you make healthier choices if you really need to buy food from a fast food restaurant.

Most fast food restaurants offer package deals to attract more customers. For just a little more money, you get a lot more food. Although it may seem like a good bargain, you should ask yourself if you are really that hungry.

You may also feel tempted to choose side dishes that are high in fats. You can order a salad instead of fries. Salads are a great way to increase your vegetable intake. Feel free to ask the waiter or waitress to explain how the food is prepared. You may even ask for a recommendation of popular healthier items.

Choose a more nutritious drink to go with your meal. Young people today are getting almost ten percent of their daily sugar intake from soft drinks and sweetened beverages. Most soft drinks only contain sugar, without any other nutrients. They can easily be replaced with plain water or unsweetened tea.

Fast food restaurants now serve many healthier choices on their menu. Try to pick dishes that are more nutritious. Eating too much unhealthy food may increase the risk of obesity, heart disease and diabetes. At the end of the day, you are the one who should be responsible for your own health.
