Question 62

Primary 5 English » Primary 5 English (Term 2)

0 pts

Omar and Bala had known each other since their preschool days and right through Primary 5 now. Every day after school, the two boys would often fantasise about being famous basketball players as they took turns to throw the ball through the hoop at the basketball court near where they lived.	1
One day, two bullies came stomping onto the court, uninvited. Omar and Bala were frightened. The bullies started calling the boys names. That signalled the boys to distance themselves from the unwelcomed guests. Suddenly, one of the bullies grabbed the basketball. "This belongs to us now," said the nasty bully with an evil glint in his eye. His equally nasty partner-in-crime smirked as he dribbled the ball. Without warning, the bullies shoved the two boys to the ground. Quickly, Omar jumped to his feet and ran for home. Overwhelmed by sheer terror, he did not once look back to see if his friend was also able to escape.	5 10
Bala refused to flee although he knew he would be in agony soon. It was so unfair! How could the bullies push people around just because they wanted to? Unfortunately, they were bigger and stronger than Bala. They punched and kicked him relentlessly. Bala did not stand a chance. In the end, one of his eyes was swollen shut and his clothes were torn. The bullies then took one look at their 'masterpiece' and walked off, laughing loudly. Poor Bala was left to stumble home alone.	15
The next day in school, Omar was ashamed when he saw the extent of Bala's injuries. Instinctively, he tried to put an arm on Bala's shoulder but was given a violent push in return. "I can't believe you abandoned me!" yelled Bala. "What kind of a friend are you?" Omar tried to apologise but to no avail. "If that is the kind of friend you are," ranted the angry boy, "then I am better off alone!" Omar felt terrible about running away. His actions had cost him dearly.	20 25
The following day, Bala returned to the court with a new ball. He played by himself since he could not forgive Omar so easily. Suddenly, he heard a voice. One that sent chills down his spine. "Back so soon? Oh great! Another free gift for us?" asked the voice. Bala's pulse raced. However, at that moment, another voice rang out loud and clear across the basketball court. "This stops now!" he bellowed. Omar had been watching his best friend all the while. Once he saw the bullies approaching Bala, Omar seized the chance to make amends.	30
Omar and Bala stood side by side and rolled up their sleeves. They now stood as a team, finding strength in unity. This also gave Omar and Bala newfound confidence and so they stood tall with their chests puffed up. They were now prepared to give it all they had. As soon as the bullies realised that they would be in for a real fight, they paled and retreated, before running off with their tail between their legs. Omar and Bala could not help but laugh. Then they turned to each other and shook hands firmly.	35
It was an unforgettable lesson they learnt that day. To beat the bullies of the world, friends must stand by one another. As good friends should.	40
