SAVING WATER IS IN OUR HANDS

There are ways that you can get involved in order to ensure water sustainability.

Get Involved!

Singapore World Water Day!

World Water Day is held annually on 22 March, a day designated by the United Nations (UN) to celebrate the importance of water.

In 2018, Singapore World Water Day (SWWD) will be celebrated throughout the month of March. "Make Every Drop Count", the theme for SWWD 2018, underpins the active role each of us can play to show our care for water. Activities and initiatives by the community for the community focus on active steps everyone can take to make every drop count, like practising good water saving habits.

Come join in the carnival and support Singapore World Water Day!

Date: Sunday, 18 March 2018

Time: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Venue: Open field next to East Bay Community Club

All coupon booklets come with free water bottles!

Coupons are sold at $10 per booklet during the carnival.

You can also purchase them at participating community centres and schools and the East Bay Community Club General Office from now till 17 March. Visit www.sgwed.com.sg for more information.

Meet PUB'S MASCOT - WATER WALLY at the Carnival too!

Water Wally is friendly, helpful and kind. An expert on everything about water, Water Wally is on a mission – to stop any abuse of our precious water resources and share the message of water conservation.

Be a Friend of Water

Friends of Water

You can play a part, a little effort goes a long way

In Singapore, everyone needs to contribute in one way or another to ensure that there is enough water for many generations to come. Friends of Water aims to recognise, inspire and encourage community stewardship of the nation's water resources.

Who can be recognised as a Friend of Water?

- Anyone who cares for water and takes positive actions for the water cause
- Any individual or organisation can be a Friend of Water
- Any participant of PUB's programmes will automatically qualify

Why be a Friend of Water? Make it a Team Effort

You will get first-hand information from experts on water-related topics and be invited to training workshops. You will meet others, who like you, want to help. There will be opportunities to make friends with many different groups of people and to help them appreciate water.

As a Friend of Water, you can ...

- adopt a reservoir and care for the community space
- start your own water activity programme to educate others
- help out at events and public activities

Once You Become a Friend Of Water

An official electronic certificate will be issued to you or your organisation. Alternatively, if you have done something for the water cause and wish to be recognised for your efforts, do write to us.

Please include your full name, NRIC number, mailing address and contact number and we will be in touch with you. Issuing electronic certificates are in line with our efforts to reduce paper wastage and be more eco-friendly. Contact: pub_fow@pub.gov.sg

Comprehension

I trudged back home, holding a handmade invitation card. It was from a newly transferred girl named Ruth. She was shy and hardly spoke to anyone. Hence, I was surprised when she invited the whole class to her birthday party - all thirty-six of us. When I reached home, I showed Mother the invitation card.

"This is from a new girl, Ruth, and I hardly know her. So I won't be attending the party," I informed Mother. 5

Mother looked up. She looked strangely sad and said, "You are going, dear. I'll get Ruth a present."

"No way, Bernice and Pat aren't going too," I protested. Mother glared at me and I knew that no amount of hysterics could sway her. I could not believe that Mother would force me to attend a party. I was convinced that I would not enjoy myself there. 10

When Saturday morning arrived, Mother made me wrap the pretty pink mirror-brush-and-comb set and write a message on the birthday card. After that, she drove me over to Ruth's house. Ruth answered the door. I stepped into the living room which was decorated with streamers and balloons. On one table sat the biggest cake I had ever seen. Near the cake stood thirty-six cupcakes - each one with a name on it. I wondered if they would find their respective owners that day. Instantly, I felt sad for Ruth and guilty at the same time. 15

"Our classmates may be late, Ruth. Let's wait," I said, trying my best to reassure the birthday girl. Ruth nodded. 20

While waiting, my curiosity about Ruth grew. "Where's your mum?" I asked.

Looking down, Ruth replied, "Well, she's sick."

"Oh, where's your dad?"

"He's working overseas."

Then there was silence, except for a few raspy coughs from behind a closed door. Some fifteen minutes passed... then ten more. Suddenly, the terrifying realisation set in. I froze. "How could I get out of here now?" I thought. As I sank into self-pity, I heard muffled sobs. Looking up, I saw Ruth's tear-streaked face. My heart was overwhelmed with sympathy and filled with rage at my thirty-five selfish classmates. 25

Springing to my feet, I proclaimed, "Who needs them?" Ruth's startled look changed to excited agreement. We started the party with the cake. We could not find any matches so we just pretended to light the candles. I gave her the present and sang "Happy Birthday" while Ruth made a wish and blew out the imaginary flames. We then proceeded to play the party games and devour the food. 30

In a flash, it was time to go home. Gathering up all my goodies and thanking Ruth repeatedly, I dashed to Mother's car. I was bubbling with excitement. In the car, I told Mother how I had won all the games except for Pin the Tail on the Donkey. However, Ruth was gracious to give me the prize as she said that it was not fair for the birthday girl to win. 35

"I can't wait to tell everyone what a great party they missed!" I exclaimed. 40

Mother pulled over, stopped the car and hugged me tight. With tears glistening in her eyes, she cooed, "I'm so proud of you."

That day I learned that a single person could also make a difference. And I had done it at Ruth's tenth birthday because of Mother.
