Furry Friends
 Animal Shelter
 Open House
 27 May 2018
 - 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Do you wish to learn more about our animals and what we do at this animal shelter? Good news! We will be holding an open house to let you get to know our animals and us! During the open house, we will also be offering hour-long guided tours of our premises. As you take in the sights and sounds around you, the guides, who are all long-time volunteers, will be able to tell you each of our animals' stories – their lives before and after rescue. You will also find out about this shelter's daily operations.

We can accommodate up to a maximum of 10 visitors per group. Please visit our website to sign up for the guided tours at least a week before the day of our open house. Registration will close on 20 May 2018 by 5 p.m.

If you're thinking about adopting a pet, we would recommend that you bring your whole family along so that all of you have the opportunity to interact with our animals. We believe that our animals and their potential owners must connect and be comfortable with one another even before adoption is considered. We look forward to seeing all of you at our open house!

Free Adoption Starter Kit!

To help you get started, we provide a free kit for every first-time pet owner. Depending on the type of animal you adopt, the kit may include items like bedding, grooming tools, food samples, and pet supplies vouchers!

ADOPT, DON'T BUY!

Every month, Furry Friends Animal Shelter takes in about 20 stray animals and 10 animals from pet owners who want to give up their pets. There are numerous other shelters in Singapore, and the number of animals that needs to be taken care of is increasing at an alarming rate.

When you adopt an animal from a shelter, you are not only giving that animal a second chance. You are also helping shelters save more lives by freeing up space for them to take in more animals.

BECOME A VOLUNTEER!

1. Do you love animals?
2. Are you at least 18 years of age?
3. Can you volunteer on a weekly basis for at least 6 months?
4. Are you comfortable with handling animals?
5. Would you be willing to clean animal enclosures?

If you answered 'Yes!' to all the above questions, WE NEED YOU!

You can visit our website to sign up as a volunteer or come by our Volunteers Office during our open house and speak to Vic Lee, our Volunteer Manager.

Comprehension open-ended

I kept walking even after the sun had set. The sky was still tinged with gold, but I knew that soon everything would be swallowed up in darkness and I would have to stop searching for my mother and brother.

As if sensing my thoughts, Chnay pointed to an abandoned hut with torn thatching for a roof, and suggested that we sleep there. Without waiting for my answer, he crawled into the shelter and curled up in the corner. When he saw that I was hesitating outside, he beckoned me in impatiently. "Dara, get some sleep," he said. "We will look for your family tomorrow." 5

When I opened my eyes the next morning, Chnay was standing over me, grinning. "Breakfast," he announced and squatting next to me, held out some cold rice on a banana leaf. 10

"Where did you get it?" I asked.

"I took it," he said.

"What do you mean? Who did you take it from?"

With a defiant tilt of his chin, Chnay started eating the rice. "It's a kind of secret sharing, that's all. I just don't bother to tell the people that they're sharing their things with me. Besides, it's not like we can depend on you to find food. You wouldn't dare, would you?" he said. I was about to protest when my stomach rumbled. Chnay was right, I thought. Food was meant to be shared. I reached out and broke off a chunk of the rice for myself. 15 20

That day, Chnay and I wandered around the base camp of General Kung Silor, looking for my family. By late afternoon, we had still found no sign of my family. I was tired and discouraged and hungry. Everything seemed bleak.

It was then that I smelled it – something so wonderful that I was suddenly alert. The aroma of roast chicken – my nose was never wrong. My brother had often teased me about it, saying that I could sniff out our ripening tamarind pods or guava fruits before even the bees got to them. The smell was coming from the cluster of thatched huts across the ditch, where the kitchen for the army officers could be. I nudged Chnay and said, "Let's go take a look, over there." 25

We approached the huts cautiously and peered into the unguarded doorway of a kitchen. Rows of skewered chicken, the skin in a glistening golden brown were roasting. My heart pounded as I stood by the doorway and watched Chnay inch his way toward the closest row of chickens. He swiftly tore two drumsticks off a roasting chicken and flashed me a triumphant grin. 30

"What's going on?" a burly man suddenly appeared and demanded. Startled by the voice, Chnay and I tried to run. However, the man caught me by the wrist and the cook who had dashed out of the kitchen grabbed Chnay's arm. 35

"Who are you?" the man growled, bending down to look at me. I opened my mouth but no sound came out.

"They were trying to steal food, Sir Kung Silor," the cook said. 40

"Stealing food? Who dares to steal from my kitchen?" Kung Silor thundered.

I could tell by the look on Chnay's face that he was frozen with fear. I took a deep breath and managed to say, "I am sorry, sir. But we were hungry."

"That doesn't mean you can steal my food," Kung Silor said sternly. Well, how would we be able to get it without stealing, I thought. To my horror, I realised that I had spoken the thought aloud. 45

Kung Silor looked taken aback, then amused. "You could have asked for it," he said. Impulsively, I took one of the drumsticks from Chnay, then turned to Kung Silor. "So, can we have the drumsticks, please?" I asked. "And can we also have some rice as well?"

Kung Silor studied me with new interest. "You've got spirit, little-girl." 50

"My name's Dara," I told him, "And I'm not little."

He laughed. "Anything else you want, Dara?" he asked.

"I would like to work in the kitchen," I said quickly. "In exchange for free meals."

Kung Silor looked at the cook, "Well, you could use her." The cook nodded reluctantly as he released Chnay and stalked back into the kitchen. 55

When we were left to ourselves again, Chnay looked at me in awe. "Kung Silor is right," he said. "You've got spirit."

Pick out a two-word phrase from the second paragraph that tells us Dara was uncertain about entering the hut.
