Reading Comprehension (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the question.

Finally, it was December holidays! Ann and Yen were very excited. Their parents had promised them a month full of fun activities. First, they were going to stay over at their grandparents' house with all their cousins. The girls planned to do many things with their cousins. They would need to bring their swimsuits and basketball along.

Then, the girls would be attending a Maker's Camp at their father's workplace. Before that, they would need to collect old containers, empty egg cartons and straws. They would learn to make toys using these recycled materials.

In late December, their parents were taking them to Japan so they could visit Disneyland! The girls were most excited about this. Yen loved the cold weather in winter. Ann was more thrilled about the flight than Yen. Her ambition was to become a pilot.
