Section J: Comprehension: Open-Ended

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions 41 - 46.

Fox was walking along the seashore. Hearing voices, he stopped to listen to Elephant and Whale.

"Whale", said Elephant arrogantly! "You are the largest and strongest animal of the sea. I'm the largest and strongest animal on land. Hence, both of us should rule over all the animals on the earth." Whale agreed whole-heartedly.

Fox thought, "They are larger and stronger but I'm the smartest! I'll play a trick on them and let them know this". He thought of a trick that would make them think, Hippopotamus needed their help.

Later, Fox found Elephant in the wood and said, "Hello, Powerful Ruler, Hippopotamus is stuck in the sand on the beach and I need your help to pull her out. Let me tie one end of this rope around you and the other end around Hippopotamus. When you hear my drum, you'll know it's time to pull really hard." Elephant liked Fox's compliment, 'Powerful Ruler', and was willing to help.

Afterwards, Fox ran to the beach and greeted Whale, "Hello, Mighty and Majestic Whale. Hippopotamus is trapped deep in the mud, in the woods. I'd like to tie one end of this rope around your tail and the other end around Hippopotamus. I'll beat my drum so you'll know when to pull." Whale beamed with pride and agreed to help after hearing Fox address him as 'Mighty Whale'.

Fox ran back into the woods and pounded his drum hard and loud. Both Elephant and Whale began to pull hard, each against the other.

Snap! One end of the rope flew back and stung Elephant on the ear. The other end smacked Whale on the tail and they both cried out in pain.

Fox laughed so hard that all the animals could hear him. Elephant and Whale knew then that they had been tricked and realised that when it came to intelligence, Fox was the smartest.
