Julio Iglesias is a world-renowned singer and songwriter. He has sold more than 350 million records worldwide and performed for over 60 million people. Most people would consider him lucky. However, when he was younger, he was not so fortunate. Julio was a skillful goalkeeper and had a promising career with Real Madrid Football Club in Spain while studying law in a university. Unfortunately, he met with a serious car accident and could no longer play football professionally. 5

After the accident, he spent a year in hospital and had to put his studies on hold. While he was recovering, he learnt to play the guitar. It was given to him by a nurse so that he could improve the movement of his fingers. He learnt how to play the guitar by listening to the radio. At that time, he also discovered his talent for singing. 10

After Julio left the hospital, he completed his law studies because he wanted to be a lawyer. However, he began to develop great passion in singing. In the end, he decided to devote himself to music instead of law.

Perhaps Julio could have been a good lawyer but he has certainly done very well as a singer and songwriter. He once admitted to a reporter that he had more courage and attitude than talent. 15
