Section E: Comprehension (10 marks)

Jane was an irritable girl who often said nasty things to others whenever she lost her temper. Feeling concerned, Jane's mother came up with an idea. She gave Jane a bag of nails and said, "Every time you lose your temper, hammer a nail into the wall."

On the first day, Jane painstakingly hammered ten nails into the wall. Hammering a nail into the wall was hard work so Jane tried to control her temper instead. On the 5 second day, she only hammered six nails. On the third day, Jane did not hammer any nails. She eagerly told her mother the good news.

Jane's mother nodded approvingly, then asked her to pull out the nails from the wall. Jane did as she was instructed. She noticed that each nail left a hole in the wall when it was removed. Wanting to cover up the holes, Jane bought a tin of paint and 10 painted the wall using a paintbrush. However, her efforts were in vain.

"When you say something hurtful, it leaves a permanent scar on others, just like these holes left by the nails. However hard you try, you cannot undo the hurt caused by your words," Jane's mother explained.

Jane finally realised the importance of controlling her temper. As a result, she 15 stopped saying words that she would regret.

Section F: Comprehension (10marks)

Dylan was over the moon. His best friend, Lisa, had given him a small white dog. Whenever the dog was excited, it would run around in circles. This gave Dylan the idea of naming the dog, Circle. The two of them spent hours playing ball games outdoors, which they thoroughly enjoyed. Circle also liked chasing butterflies in the garden. Watching this always made Dylan's day.

One afternoon, Lisa invited Dylan over to play video games. Without hesitation, Dylan ran out the door and made his way to Lisa's house. He did not bother to lock Circle up in its cage as he was too eager to get to Lisa's house.

"I will only be away for thirty minutes. What harm can a little dog cause in such a short time?" Dylan reassured himself before heading out.

Two hours later, he left Lisa's house. Upon reaching home, he unlocked the door and stepped inside. His jaw dropped. The living room was a mess! Dylan stared in horror at the cushions on the couch which had been chewed to pieces.

When Dylan's parents reached home, they were furious to see the state of the living room. They reprimanded Dylan for his irresponsible act. Dylan was filled with guilt and apologised to them. From then on, Dylan made sure that he locked Circle in its cage before leaving the house.
